Bristol CONNECTICUT All Heart™

STATE OF CONNECTICUT
BRISTOL
New Cambridge was incorporated as the town of Bristol in 1785 including land that was set off in 1806 as the town of Burlington. In 1911 it was incorporated as the city of Bristol. This region was the cradle of American clockmaking, an industry which once dominated all others and led to the birth of other local industries. The city is known for its American Clock and Watch Museum and for the creation of new varieties of chrysanthemums.

Celebrate with Bristol

On July 4, 2026, our nation will commemorate and celebrate the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The America250 Committee along with the Mayor's Office, invites Bristol residents, businesses, nonprofit organizations, civic groups, and museums to join the City of Bristol in celebrating the 250th anniversary of our country by participating in the City of Bristol's America250 initiatives.

Throughout 2026, the Bristol America250 Committee will work collaboratively with the community on ways to honor the contributions of all those from Bristol who were part of our country's history in 1776 when Bristol was known as New Cambridge.
